

Comparative Governments Research

- Using the notes you have taken thus far in the unit you will research governments with one other person
- When you research you will be asked to learn and understand...
  - The ruling style of the government – who's in charge, how is the government typically ruled
  - What type of power is typically used in the government?
    - Which of the 5 sources of power are usually exerted?
  - 3 Examples of a nation or group of people that have used or are currently using the form government researched
  - Be prepared to discuss each of these governments in class
  - You will need to create works cited for all of the information used on this sheet
- Take your notes on the sheet I am handing out
  - There are multiple articles on my website that will help you complete your work, you should not have to find a bunch of information in order to complete your research
  - You are not allowed to use random websites in order to complete your work: Wikipedia, History.com, ask.com, etc...
- You will have Tuesday and Wednesday to work on this assignment in class, it will also be your homework if you do not finish in class
  - This is due Friday, I am collecting this and grading it for content, it will be out of 25 points
  - The works cited will be graded separately out of 10 points, it needs to be turned in to turnitin.com